LISTENING TO PLAN FOR MONETARY CHANGES — As Treasury Secretary George Shultz, not shown, announced in Washington that the dollar had been devalued, Secretary of State William Rogers, Presidential Assistant Peter Flannigan, Chairman of the Federal Resources Board Arthur Burns, listen.

Dollar Does Well On Most Markets

LONDON (AP) — The dollar traded well above its new par values today in major European currency markets that reopened for the first time since devaluation of the U.S. currency. But another wave of selling hit the Tokyo market.

The Japanese state bank intervened in an attempt to keep the value of the newly floated yen down. Dealers estimated that it bought up $235 million, but the rate was driven up to 270.80 yen by the end of trading, representing a 13.7 percent increase in the value of the Japanese currency.

Dealers said the dollars had accumulated during the three days the Tokyo exchange was closed.

Trading on the European markets was cautious, and the exchanges in Copenhagen, Madrid and Oslo remained closed for the third day.

But, in Frankfurt, the dollar opened at 2.9575 marks, well above the new base rate of 2.9003 set by Chancellor Willy Brandt's cabinet Tuesday. The rate was $2.4540 to the pound in London, down from $2.4675 at the start of trading; 3.4450 Swiss francs to the dollar in Zurich, where a new parity rate was to be announced later in the day; 41.25 Belgian francs in the Brussels free market, where the official rate was 40.33, and 4.6825-4.6875 French francs in bank-to-bank dealings in Paris, a devaluation of 8.41 per cent.

The monetary uncertainty spilled over into the London bullion market, traditional haven for shorttime speculators, to send the price soaring $1.10 an ounce to a new record high of $70.10.

The devaluation also hit the diamond market, sending the cost of raw stones up 11 per cent.

Bad Weather Covers Much Of Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The rains returned to northern California today as a new weather front moved in from the Pacific pushing winds to possible gale force along the central and northern coast.

Heavy rains the past few days in California have led to mud slides, rock falls and have contributed to the deaths of at least 10 persons, seven in traffic accidents.

Snow whitened the central and southern Rockies and heavy snow warnings were issued for the central mountains of New Mexico and travelers advisories continued for parts of Arizona and New Mexico.

A large low pressure area from Mississippi to Illinois brought widespread precipitation to interior areas.

Heavy rains hit the lower Mississippi Valley. New Orleans and Baton Rouge, La., took on more than an inch and Columbus and Meridian, Miss., were soaked with more than 1½ inches.

Flash flood warnings were issued for east central Mississippi and a tornado was reported sighted at Biloxi, Miss. A tornado watch was in effect for parts of Mississippi and Alabama, Florida and Georgia.

Fog, rain and drizzle coated areas from Missouri to the Ohio Valley and southern Appalachians. Snow continued over the northern Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region.

Winds up to 35 miles per hour brought arctic temperatures to the north and central plains. Drifting snow was common.

Marijuana Hothouse Operation Uncovered

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Warren Straley and auxiliary officer Bob Woodward arrested 18-year-old Barry S. Black, Route 2, Canal Winchester, after he was caught tending marijuana plants in an unoccupied home Sunday night.

Black, a senior at Canal Winchester High School, was bound to the grand jury Tuesday after waiving preliminary hearings on two charges in Circleville Municipal Court. He entered not guilty pleas.

He is charged with cultivating, growing and producing marijuana without a license and entering a dwelling in an attempt to commit a felony. Total bond is $4,000.

Black picked a house in the northern part of the county whose owners vacation in the south during winter months every year, according to deputies. He climbed to the roof and entered the two-story dwelling through a window. He used a back room for his marijuana garden and carried everything, including water, to the spot.

The department received a call from a neighbor who had been asked to watch the house by the owners. The neighbor discovered the garden Friday.

Deputies Straley and Woodward waited in the house Saturday night, but Black did not return until Sunday.

The men let the youth tend to his plants and apprehended him as he was leaving through a downstairs window. Deputies confiscated 18 plants.

GARDEN OF TROUBLE — Barry Black's "garden of trouble", 18 growing marijuana plants, led to his arrest Sunday night by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies. Black allegedly broke into an unoccupied house and set up his garden by importing all materials. He taped window blinds to their sills so two heat lamps, which burned continuously, would not be spotted from the outside, and returned every other night to water the 18 plants.

Nixon Bares Environment Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will unveil his 1973 environmental proposals in a radio address to the nation today amid speculation he will emphasize the need to complete last year's unfinished business.

The President made clear in his proposed budget for fiscal 1974 that he would not call for big, expensive new programs.

But sources said Nixon probably would press for passage this year of major environmental legislation proposed last year, perhaps with some revisions.

The proposals included a tax on smokestack emissions of sulfur as an incentive to industry to develop and burn low-sulfur fuels and thus reduce air pollution.

Others would offer federal incentives to the states to develop land-use plans, and provide for restoration of mined areas.

1st Flight Of POWs Heads Home

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — Twenty smiling American prisoners of war and a Vietnamese puppy left Clark Air Base today on their long-awaited flight home to the United States.

The men departed a day ahead of schedule. Their big C141 Starliner hospital jet was due at California's Travis Air Force Base about 4 p.m. PST.

Forty more POWs will follow Thursday in two planes. This will leave 80 of the men freed Monday still at Clark and one in Saigon. Two others were flown home Tuesday because of serious illness in their families.

Speaking for the group that left today, Capt. Jeremiah A. Denton of Virginia Beach, Va., told the newsmen and military officials at planeside: "I would like to express our thanks to you people here at Clark. You have shown us that your feeling is as deep as ours, and that is the highest compliment I can pay for the wonderful welcome we received here."

"I would like to thank President Nixon and everyone associated with this project for an experience we will never forget."

The canine passenger was a dog called Ma-co that Lt. Cmdr. Edward A. Davis of Leola, Pa., adopted during his nearly eight years at the Hanoi Hilton.

"What does Ma-co mean?" a reporter called out as Davis cuddled the pup for the photographers before taking it aboard the plane.

"They tell me it means 'dog without hair,'" Davis replied.

Flight Nurse Patricia M. O'Reilly of New York City, who helped smuggle the dog aboard the evacuation plane in Hanoi Monday, ran up and embraced Davis.

Nixon Surprises Newsmen; Bobs About With Small Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nothing like it had been seen around the White House since the days of Lyndon Johnson. There was Richard Nixon repeatedly bobbing into view to make small talk and big news.

Before Tuesday had ended, the President and members of his family even walked three blocks through downtown Washington to dine in a Polynesian restaurant. The stroll capped a busy day.

What happened to this man so often described a few weeks ago as a hermit, shut off from all save closest aides, friends and relatives?

White House reporters could only surmise that the dramatic return of the first American war prisoners from Vietnamese cells had triggered an unparalleled display of spontaneous Nixonian combustion. Or, possibly, an exercise in innovative public relations.

Nixon kept departing from set patterns throughout the day, surprising and amazing newsmen who thought impromptu presidential behavior had become history when Johnson left the White House four years ago.

One example of Tuesday's "new Nixon" in action came shortly after 1 p.m. when many reporters were out to lunch. Photographers and correspondents suddenly were invited into the rose garden for a "picture opportunity" with Nixon and Donald Rumsfeld, new U.S. ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Such sessions customarily are as dull as the label implies: The chief executive talks inaudibly with his guests while cameras click and whir.

This time Nixon loudly kidded Rumsfeld about being right in style because the fledgling envoy's trousers were cuffed. Displaying the tact that might be expected of an ambassador, Rumsfeld suggested Nixon's cuffed pants were back in vogue and his own were old-fashioned.

About to return to his Oval Office,

Officials originally thought at least three days would be needed to prepare the men for their return to America, but they speeded up the timetable because of the good condition of many of the men and their enthusiasm to get going.

More than 100 of the men went on a buying spree at the base exchange Tuesday night, and many of them had the first beers of their new freedom.

"They sure are getting frisky," said one official. "Some of them tried to commandeer a bus to drive to the officers' club for dinner. I don't think the doctors involved in planning for the POW return figured they would be so healthy."

Weather

Cloudy and cool today, high near 45, with a 100 per cent chance of rain. Cloudy tonight, turning colder, with a high near 30 and rain changing to snow. 80 per cent possibility. Cloudy, windy and colder tomorrow, high near 35, with a 60 per cent chance of snow flurries.

Ohio Assembly Fight Forecast Over Tax Sharing Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Majority Democrats have readied the administration's federal revenue sharing bill for a House floor vote Thursday over Republican claims it is one of the "worst" spending documents in recent state history.

The action came Tuesday night and was largely overshadowed by the appearance at the Statehouse of several hundred banner carriers both for and against the women's equal rights amendment to the U. S. Constitution (ERA). Many gave out Valentines to legislators to support their view.

Only about 300 of an estimated 500-600 would be witnesses, most of that women and many of them young women, could get into the House State Government Committee hearing room. But Chairman Michael Del Bane, D-56 Hubbard, gave assurances everyone would get a chance to testify in the next four weeks or so. Proponents were heard Tuesday night. Opponents get their first chance next week.

The Democrat-controlled Finance Committee bickered more than two hours over a series of unsuccessful GOP amendments to the federal revenue sharing bill.

Nine GOP amendments to change spending priorities suggested by Democratic Gov. John Gilligan were voted down along strict party line votes. Then, Democrats obtained bipartisan help to pass a pair of their amendments that added $1.2 million to the $34.3 million proposed in the bill for vocational education construction.

Those were the only changes made. To add the new vocational education funds, the committee voted to take out of the bill $700,000 which had been earmarked for new Ohio National Guard Armories at Alliance and Youngstown-Warren. Rep. Ronald Weyandt, D-43 Akron, who proposed the deletion, claimed the need for the armories was "not well taken" in view of the end of the Vietnam War and the likelihood of a resulting lack of interest in the Guard.

On another amendment by Rep. William A. Kopp, D-29 Columbus, the committee deleted a proposal for the state to spend $500,000 for three campsites at interstate highway rest stops to accommodate 75 campers each. Kopp said private enterprise can adequately fill needs of Ohio campers, especially transients.

Vocational education construction now is down for more than a third of the $92.3 million the bill allocates as Ohio's share of federal funds up to July, 1974.

Finally, the bill received a 20-3 committee recommendation with Reps. Chester T. Cruze, R-22 Cincinnati, Joseph Hiestand, R-77 Hillsboro, and Robert E. Levitt, R-70 Canton voting "no." Levitt said except for the funds made available for vocational education, "this is the worst spending document I've seen come out of this legislature in recent history." Several other GOP members echoed the sentiments.

Testimony on the women's rights amendment lasted well over three hours and it generally followed the same proponent arguments that have been voiced in the 27 states which have ratified so far. Bill Castevens of Cleveland, regional director of the United Auto Workers Union, added one of several male voices to those favoring the amendment and said that he spoke for his union as well.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices tumbled today as investors pulled back from their earlier bullish view of plans to devalue the dollar.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was off 12.26 to 984.50, and losers held a wide 967-to-312 edge over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was active.

Analysts said the decline reflected not only a second look at the dollar devaluation but also a return to nervousness about inflation.

The Big Board's most-active issue was Pan American World Airways, a consistent volume leader in recent sessions. It advanced 1/4 to 94.

On the American Stock Exchange, the price-change index was down .09 to 934.

The Amex's most-active issue remained Rapid-American warrants, off 1/8 to 6 1/2. The company offered last week to purchase up to seven million of the warrants at that price.

The noon New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,400 common stocks was down 0.60 to 62.32.

Roger Wolfe Named Year's Outstanding Young Educator

Roger D. Wolfe, principal at Logan Elm School District's George McDowell Exchange School since 1971, was selected Outstanding Young Educator for the year by the Circleville Jaycees.

"I try to show each student that I care about him," Wolfe wrote in a qualifying form the Jaycees use to survey young teachers in the area. "Personalizing education reflects a concern for the student. The greatest thing a teacher can say is 'I teach kids' not 'I teach seventh grade.'"

"My strongest characteristic is being sensitive to peoples feelings and being able to establish a good rapport. One must be able to communicate to be a good teacher," he said.

"I thoroughly enjoy working with students and teachers. To work with someone and then see that person achieve success according to his ability level is a real joy. Being involved with young people so full of life and enthusiastic cannot help but lift my spirits."

Wolfe graduated from Circleville High School and earned a BS degree in social studies from Ohio Northern University in 1963 and a MA in educational administration in 1966 from Ohio State University.

He was a teacher and coach in the Teays Valley school district from 1963 to 1964, a teacher and coach at Whetstone Senior High School from 1964 to 1967, and an administrator in South Western City School district before accepting his present position.

Wolfe, 32, lives with his wife Pamela, and their two children, Marcy, 6, and Michele, 3, at 688 Fairlawn Ave., Circleville.

He holds a permanent Secondary Teaching Certificate and provisional certificates for high school principal, elementary principal and local superintendent work.

Locally, he is a member of the Trinity Lutheran Church, the Circleville Jaycees, the Buckeye Association of School Administrators and the Department of Elementary School Principals.

Wolfe, the Jaycees Outstanding Young Farmer and Outstanding Young Man will be honored Feb. 19th at the Jaycees Annual Distinguished Service Awards banquet. Outstanding Young Farmer will be announced later this week and the Outstanding Young Man will be announced during the DSA banquet.

U.S. Balance Of Payments Seen Better

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deficit of the nation's balance of payments narrowed in the last three months of 1972 and for the year as a whole, the government said today.

Although the deficit in U.S. international transactions improved in the fourth quarter, the deficit for 1972 was still one of the largest in the nation's history.

But the report came at a good psychological time for the Nixon administration, which devalued the dollar only Monday night, largely as a result of the nation's failure to correct its deficit in the balance of payments.

The Commerce Department said that the deficit in the fourth quarter by one key yardstick, the official reserve transactions balance, was $1.4 billion compared with $4.6 billion in the previous quarter.

The official transactions balance is designed to measure mainly transactions with foreign governments and central banks.

The improvement was attributed to "a return to calmer foreign exchange market conditions" after the floating of the British pound in the fall of 1972.

The calmer foreign exchange markets didn't last long, erupting again in the past several weeks and leading to devaluation.

Amanda-Clearcreek Board Okays Raise For Teachers

A 5.5 per cent pay increase was authorized for teachers and William Smith was re-employed as Amanda-Clearcreek Superintendent under a three year contract by the school board.

The Amanda-Clearcreek board met Monday and authorized a pay increase, to be come effective March 1. This increases beginning teacher pay for a bachelor degree for $6,752 and a master degree $7,393.

Smith, who has served as the district's superintendent for eleven years, was re-hired under a three year contract.

A progress report on window replacement in the Amanda building was given. J. W. Walker and son, who is doing the repair work, was given authorization to install new windows in rooms 306, 302, the speech room and Mrs. Hedges' room in the Amanda building.

Ten teachers aides have been employed by the board under a program funded through the state. Those hired were approved and certified by the State Department of Education and have been serving in the district schools.

Aides at the Stoutsville building are Alice Weller, Rosemary Young, Linda Kay Kempton and Evelyn Wright. Similar positions are held at Amanda by Larry Arledge, Sue LeClair, Evelyn Dunkle, Joane Hinton, Marlene Hyme and Mary Jo Kim.

Mike Stroup was present at the board meeting to request use of the Stoutsville gymnasium for basketball practice. Permission was granted by the board to Strop's group and the Heidelberg Church group, in accordance with board policy.

Ronald Pairan was given a supplementary contract to coach baseball.

The board is investigating the feasibility of instituting a new payroll system through the Ohio National Bank and area banking facilities. Also studied by the board was a request to consider allowing the guidance counselor additional time at the end of the school year to complete his school duties.

Discussion was held on sales projects of school activity groups, in order to determine a reasonable number of projects and amount of time reasonably devoted to sales.

A $5,000 life insurance policy through Educators and Executives Insurance of Columbus will be paid for by the board of education for all school employees.

A Page Of Opinion

Target: The Federal Reserve

New attempts are expected during this session of Congress to deprive the Federal Reserve System of its independence and prevent it from performing properly the functions assigned to it by law.

The aim of proposed legislation would be to completely transform the nature of the Federal Reserve System from an independent agency of government established to watch over an important aspect of the nation's economic health to an arm of the political administration in power.

There has long been outspoken criticism of the FRS by those whose pet economic plans have often been restrained by the hard-nosed, practical attitude of the board of governors. This criticism is frequently expressed in charges that it has "illegally granted itself the power to operate a fourth branch of government," or is trying to "nullify the actions of Congress and the President."

It is this very function which Congress voted the Federal Reserve System—to act independently and without being influenced by political pressures from the White House or Congress.

If the FRS were acting illegally, the remedy to that misuse of power would quickly be available in the courts, without enactment of legislation which would destroy the system.

Today In History

-By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, Feb. 14, the 45th day of 1973. This is Valentine's Day. There are 320 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1663, Canada became a royal province of France.

On this date —
In 1859, Oregon was admitted into the union as the 33rd state.

In 1893, Hawaii was annexed to the United States by treaty.

In 1912, Arizona became the 48th state.

In 1929, seven hoodlums who were rivals of the Al Capone gang in Chicago were murdered in a garage. The killings became known as the St. Valentine's Day massacre.

In 1956, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev denounced the policies of Joseph Stalin, at a Soviet Communist party conference in Moscow.

In 1967, Britain announced existence of a Soviet-British plan for peace in Vietnam, if and when the two sides were ready for one.

Ten years ago: The U.S. assured its western allies that American troops would remain in Europe as long as they were wanted there.

Five years ago: It was disclosed that a round of peace probes between the U.S. and North Vietnam had not produced any basis for halting bombing of the north and opening peace talks.

One year ago: American trade restrictions against Communist China were relaxed, putting that country on the same basis as the Soviet Union.

Today's birthdays: Comedian Jack Benny is 79. Golfer Mickey Wright is 38.

Thought for today: It doesn't take much skill to write a love letter, but it takes considerable skill to get it back — anonymous.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am constantly amazed by the number of readers who write to me and express their concern about the possibility of eventually developing diabetes because of a family history of this condition.

Although they do have a reasonable right to be anxious when both sides of their family have a positive history of diabetes, the most destructive aspect of their problem is their uncontrolled fear.

Often fear is mixed with despair, neither of which can be considered a sensible approach to a fanciful or a realistic problem.

Rather than live in a world of anxiety about diabetes it is so much wiser to be studied at regular intervals for the possibility of high blood sugar, or sugar in the urine.

It is true that this disease is not always a forthright one with obvious symptoms that are clearly characteristic, in the early stages.

It is for this very reason that when a family history of diabetes is present, early detection is the key to early control. This axiom must bring a sense of hope to the diabetic and to those who live in the shadow of this disorder!

Diabetes almost always is a controllable disease when recognized early and treated intensively.

It is estimated that two million or more Americans may have mild diabetes which is undetected because of the absence of symptoms.

This group is the target for intensive educational campaigns by Public Health officials and by the American Diabetes Association.

When the hidden diabetic is brought out into the open he increases tremendously his chance of living a full life with his condition, and without complications.

When that unknown diabetic is converted to the known diabetic uninterrupted diligent care by the physician can eradicate a great threat to health and life.

With dietary control, insulin and oral drugs, the diabetic can now live a completely fulfilled productive life, free of incapacitation.

Emphasis again is made on early recognition and early treatment.

A sub-category of diabetic has emerged in recent years. It is the "pre-diabetic" who, with a family pattern of diabetes, is under constant surveillance from childhood through adolescence, into adult life.

A most complex battery of blood tests and urine studies can establish the severity, the need for intensive treatment, and can set the rules by which the diabetic, the pre-diabetic and the hidden diabetic can avail themselves of today's modern advances in this field.

The same letters that express concern often ask me to describe the "early symptoms" of diabetes. To choose any one or group of symptoms would serve only to exaggerate their fears rather than to allay them.

It is the firm philosophy of these columns to avoid a portrait of symptoms of any disease. Many fearful people have a tendency to identify with symptoms they read about. This merely increases their fears.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a golden key.

It opens the portal to the past where, row on row, all our yesterdays are stored. Some are lovely, some are drab — but all of them are there.

There is a release and refreshment of the soul in revisiting, now and then, the days that were. The wise man keeps the golden key of memory bright not rusty.

I'd say your key is still pretty bright if you can look back and remember when —

A boy and a girl in love could carve their initials in a tree without upsetting the woodland ecology.

Childhood was more innocent. You could have a fine time chasing cabbage butterflies in a meadow or squirting the hot dust of a rural road between your bare toes on a beautiful summer day.

The only ones absent from church on Sunday were those too sick to go.

If you told your mother you were too ill to go to school, you inevitably had to stay in bed and take a big dose of castor oil. Before anyone in the family ever went to see a doctor about any ailment, he had to give castor oil a chance to work its miracles. The only exception was a broken arm.

No girl who valued her reputation would let herself be seen sitting in the last row of seats in the movie with her beau's arm around her.

A man had a cushy job if he didn't work up a sweat on it six days a week.

Women who prided themselves on never having tasted a drop of liquor in their life sometimes got mildly tipsy in the afternoon drinking a female tonic that contained more alcohol than they knew.

When the lord of the house raised his voice in anger, the cat ran and hid under the bed and the dog tried to paw his way out the back door. But despite this, everyone in the family knew that Mama was the real boss most days.

Anybody who didn't eat three full meals a day was thought to have a finicky appetite.

Anybody who got a passport to visit a foreign country was looked up to in the neighborhood with some awe. Most folks had never traveled more than 100 miles from their birthplace.

Marriages were supposed to last a lifetime—and generally did.

Those were the days — remember?

Fairfield Seeks To Lure Hospital From Hamilton

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Fairfield city officials sought today to lure Mercy Hospital from Hamilton with the promise of a $19 million facility. The hospital board earlier announced plans of refurbishing or moving the present 80-year-old facility to a new location.

Fairfield City Council's hospital committee was scheduled to meet with the hospital board today.

Officials said revenue bonds for a 400-bed hospital could be let by Fairfield with a long-term lease to the Sisters of Mercy. The offer includes a 50-acre site.

Hamilton and Fairfield are adjoining Butler County cities.

Brown Given Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, has been named to a two-year term on the National Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

No one knows exactly how or where the practice of handshaking began.

The fishing bat of Central America and the Caribbean uses echolocation "sonar" to find food. When the bat locates small fish at the surface, it skims the water and spears its prey with strong talons.

Leave It To The States

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Senator James Buckley, the New York Conservative Republican, has said he intends at the earliest possible date to introduce a constitutional amendment to undo what he calls "the pernicious" Supreme Court pro-abortion decision. It will be said in some quarters that "Jim's a Catholic," the implication being that he speaks for a minority. This may be true insofar as the narrow issue is concerned. But Senator Buckley's objections to the court's assumption of medical wisdom transcend the immediate occasion of his anger.

The question is: should a Federal court presume to override state legislatures on sociological, biological or economic grounds in questions that are in a continual state of scientific flux? A generation ago, two wise and tolerant justices, Louis Brandeis and Felix Frankfurter, would have condemned any attempt of the Supreme Court to impose its own scientific decision on the states. At a time President Nixon is speaking of cutting back on the Federal power, the irony of what the "Nixon court" has done is peculiarly manifest.

By legalizing abortion during the early months of pregnancy the court has, in effect, endorsed a specific theory of medical progress. The court has accepted what has been called a "trimester" theory of safety for the abortion procedure. During the first three months the fact that abortion is as safe as childbirth means that the decision can be left to the physician. In the second trimester the state may regulate the procedure "in ways that are reasonably related to maternal health." Only in the third trimester, when the fetus is sufficiently formed to stand a chance of survival after premature birth, may a state prohibit abortion except where necessary to preserve the health of the mother.

The objection to such neat compartmentalization is that it must necessitate a continuous updating of scientific data by men who, however well trained they may be in law, have no particular competence to decide on the import of new medical discoveries. How can Justice Harry Blackmun, who wrote the majority court opinion, presume to know the date when a prematurely born child has a chance of survival? It could change from hospital to hospital and from year to year. Does this mean that the court decision must itself be subjected to periodic review? If so, what kind of law is that? Justice Blackmun based his decision on a woman's right to privacy. Does such a right fluctuate in accordance with a calendar of gestation?

If there is a quarrel between a woman's right to privacy and an unborn child's right to life, it had best be left to the states to resolve the quarrel in accordance with their own thoughts on the subject. A mistake in one state is bad enough, but a mistake on the Federal level is a whopper. Some hospitals are better than others, and presumably a metropolitan hospital in one of the more populous states would be likely to develop a technique of saving the life of a prematurely born child at five months, or even at four, long before the same technique could be made available say, in Point Barrow, Alaska, or in Buffalo, Wyo. To force a uniform schedule for guessing at the "potentiality of life" on all the states would seem to be a most arbitrary matter.

In raising the question of the "convenience" of the mother in connection with getting rid of an unwanted child, the court has taken another most dubious step. The Blackmun decision has been hailed because it has made a first move toward protecting the "quality of life." But who is fit to pontificate on such an unstated concept as quality? To argue that it "qualitatively" improves life to abort a child might ultimately be taken as a good reason for compulsory euthanasia. When elderly people become a drag on their children, the quality of life is spoiled for whoever may resent the necessity of caring for a grandparent. In Nazi Germany the presence of Jews was judged by Hitler, Goebbels, Himmler, and Streicher to constitute a qualitative offense. Did that justify gas chambers?

As a procedural matter, Senator Buckley faces tremendous obstacles in the attempt to reverse a Supreme Court decision by the process of constitutional amendment. It takes a fearfully long time to get the states to act on constitutional change. Wouldn't it be a simpler matter to offer a bill taking power from the Supreme Court to exercise its review function in cases that depend less on law than on sociological, medical or economic predilection? It would seem to me, a non-lawyer, that the states have a right to make sociological and medical decisions on their own.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Hairy Situation Is No Problem

DEAR ABBY: I am a young guy 20 years old and I will be inducted into the Army soon. This is fine with me as I always wanted to be a soldier, but I have a problem. All my fair fell out about a year ago and I wear a hair-piece. It is a really good one (I paid $580 for it and it is custom-made for me) and I almost never take it off. I go swimming in it, play football, and even hockey in it. I am worried about what the Army will do to me if I refuse to take it off. Abby, I don't need anyone to laugh at me. Maybe I am nuts for feeling that way about it, but I honestly don't have any hair on my head at all. Why it fell out, I don't know. It just did. My dad was bald at my age, too, so it could be hereditary. Anyway, I am not asking to be a longhaired guy because I know the Army doesn't go for that, but if they try to make me take it off they will need six guys to knock me out as it would destroy me emotionally to go around baldheaded.

Please hurry your answer, and thanks for your time.

UPTIGHT
DEAR UPTIGHT: You're lucky it's the Army because they allow men to wear hair-pieces, cut to regulation length, even in training. The Marine Corps shaves all heads for the 12-week training period, so you'd be baldheaded for the first three months whether you liked it or not.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to meet a lady between 25 and 35 years old who is mentally okay but has some kind of physical handicap. I mean someone who maybe has one arm or leg. I wouldn't even mind a person who is deaf and can't talk, but I would like one who can see.

I am mentally and physically okay myself and could return as much love as she could give me, and I feel that a handicapped woman would appreciate a good, sober, hardworking bachelor more. I live alone on a ranch, but please don't publish my name.

LONELY AND LOOKING
DEAR LOOKING: The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults (some agencies are known as the Easter Seal Society) have clubs where handicapped men and women socialize. Also, Goodwill Industries who employ the handicapped may be able to help you. I suggest that you apply in person and bring current character references along. You sound sincere, and I wish you luck, but I urge you to be very careful.

C. William O'Neill Likes Politics

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The only man ever to head all three branches of Ohio's government warmed up to politics as a college debater.

"I guess that's where it all started," says Chief Justice C. William O'Neill of the Ohio Supreme Court. "Our team went down to Texas for a national tournament, and I guess that's what made up my mind."

The 56-year-old chief justice, who has been head of the legislative branch as speaker and the chief executive as governor, reflected on a remarkable career that started when he was elected to the Ohio House at 22.

"I came out of Patton's army," he explained, to begin the first of six terms in the House where he was to become speaker at age 30 — the youngest ever to hold that job. At 34, he started a six-year stint as attorney general. He was governor at 40, and 44 when elected a member of the Supreme Court in 1960.

He was appointed chief justice in April, 1970 by former Gov. James A. Rhodes, and elected later that year to a term that expires in 1974.

The amiable, slightly-built O'Neill obviously has savored being governor, speaker, and chief justice. But he doesn't hesitate to say which he enjoyed the most.

"The legislature," he smiled. "I liked the give and take. At night, you could sit down and say 'we got this voted through today, or we made some progress on that.'"

O'Neill served as governor for only two years — a stormy period in his career that came to an abrupt end in 1958 when his Republican party misread the political winds and endorsed a hotly contested constitutional amendment outlawing union membership as a condition of employment. Democrats won virtually everything that year, including the governor's office.

"The governor's office is a pressure job. You can't take a vacation. It's with you when you go to bed at night, and it's there when you get up in the morning," O'Neill said.

He said he enjoyed being governor, and that it is "certainly the most powerful" of the jobs he has held.

The Marietta native regards his present job as a challenge and has taken it on with a zest that wasn't so apparent among his predecessors.

"The office commands a lot of respect from everyone, more than the other offices, I think. I guess that's the best part of it."

O'Neill's son, also named C. William but not a junior, was sworn in this year as a House member at age 25. Was he proud to have administered the oath to his son?

"I sure was," grinned O'Neill.

The state's top jurist indicated that with 34 years of public life behind him, he isn't through yet.

"A lot of judges say they don't like to campaign," he smiled, "but I do."

Mom Knew POW Son Was Alive

WOONSOCKET, R.I. (AP) — Rose Tellier says that 2½ years ago the government asked her to live with the secret that her son — previously believed to have drowned in Vietnam — was alive and well in a Communist prison camp.

On Monday, after watching the first of the American prisoners of war being returned to friendly soil, Mrs. Tellier said a military officer had told her in 1970 that her son, Marine Sgt. Dennis A. Tellier, had been seen in a POW camp by a double agent working for Americans in Vietnam. For a year prior to that, he had been believed dead.

Sgt. Tellier still is being held.
"My casualty officer came and he said he had a phone call from Washington but it was supposed to be very quiet," Mrs. Tellier recalled Monday. "But you know how we are, so happy, we can't keep it inside."
Mrs. Tellier said she spread the news among her family despite the officer's warning that it could jeopardize the safety of her son and the double agent. But she kept the news of her son's reported safety from even her closest friends.

MISS LOIS ANN DILL

Miss Lois Ann Dill Engaged To Michael Loy Schiff

The engagement of Miss Lois Ann Dill and Michael Loy Schiff is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Dill of Ashville. Mr. Schiff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Schiff, Ashville.

The bride-elect attended Ohio University and is presently employed by the Citizens Bank. Her fiancé graduated from Clark County Technical Institute and is currently serving in the Armed Forces.

Mrs. Monroe White Hosts United Methodist Women

Circle four United Methodist Women, Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, met recently in the home of Mrs. Monroe White, Winding Road, with Miss Maggie Mavis, assisting hostess.

Mrs. Donald Watson, leader, opened with a poem, "Find Out What God Would Have You Do and Do That Little Well." Miss Gladys Noggle gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. Marie Goodman, local church responsibility secretary, talked about the upcoming Quiet Day which will be March 22nd at the church. Members shall partake of an Agape (love) Feast served in the Service Center. Mrs. George Ankrom, secretary of missionary education, explained the reading program and issued books to members present. Mrs. Betty Morrison, assistant leader, distributed program calendars for the year.

Mrs. Turney Ross, secretary of spiritual growth, used First Thessalonians 4:9-10 and Psalms 144:15 for devotions. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Ross for the conditions of the times and she read a poem by Abraham Lincoln titled "Remember."

Guild 40 To Meet

Mrs. Dan Hindy, 210 Cedar Heights Road, will host Berger Hospital Guild 40 in her home 8 p.m. Monday. A white elephant sale will follow the business session.

Jo Ellen Smalley Feted With Shower

Miss Jo Ellen Smalley, Route 4, Circleville, was guest of honor at a bridal linen shower given by Mrs. Dannie Hettinger and Miss Jan Deal on Sunday afternoon. The shower was held at the Deal home on St. Paul Road, Ashville, decorated in a Valentine theme.

The bride-elect was seated in front of the fireplace with a large red heart extended from the ceiling over her chair. The mantel held an arrangement of white pompon mums and red carnations along with Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls. Paper hearts with pictures of Raggedy Ann and Andy were fastened on the brick fireplace and an arrangement of mums and carnations centered the dining table.

Contests were conducted with prizes being awarded the winners who in turn presented them to the guest of honor.

After Miss Smalley opened her gifts a luncheon was served to the following guests: Mrs. Harriet Smalley, Mrs. Art Deal, Mrs. Robert Stant and Erin, Mrs. Steve Smalley, Mrs. Georgia Deal, Mrs. John Wright, Mrs. David Deal and Karen, Mrs. Nolo Gulick and Karen, Mrs. Bud Linn, Mrs. Robert Shadley.

Mrs. William Trego, Mrs. Tom Purcell, Mrs. Don Rathburn, Mrs. Paul Welsh, Mrs. Gary Fortner, Mrs. Chet Fortner, Mrs. Bill Lockard, Mrs. Rolland Featheringham, Miss Pauline Roese, Mrs. Rebecca Tosca, Mrs. Wayne Bisker, Mrs. Mary Knode, and Mrs. Warren Bastian.

Unable to attend were: Mrs. Bernice Rathburn, Mrs. Ruth Dixon, Mrs. Orville Dountz, Miss Daylene Smally, Mrs. Cy Stickel, Mrs. Robert Featheringham, Mrs. Frank W. Welsh, Miss Sheryl and Linda Bisker, Mrs. William Huston and Jill, Miss Sally Tosca, the Misses Christ and Kathy Trego and Mrs. Don Jackson.

Cheap Television Set Undelivered

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — A trusting 25-year-old Flint woman still is waiting for her bargain-priced television set. Bernastine Connie told police she was standing in front of a furniture store when a man approached and offered to sell her a set for $75. She declined to buy but changed her mind when he lowered the price to $50.

He took her into the store, showed her the set and told her to drive to the back of the store to pick it up.

When she got there and gave him the $50, he told her: "Watch how fast I'll be back with the television."

That was Saturday.

Welcome Home Card Designed

MASCOUAT, Ill. (AP) — Work has started on a greeting card with "Welcome Home POWs" written in 15-foot-tall letters.

The dozen civic organizations that began painting the sign on a baseball field Monday night hope it will be read by released prisoners of war flying into Scott Air Force Base near here later this week.

The field is under the flight pattern which planes bringing POWs to the base will use.

When you are roasting a large broiler-fryer you can use a temperature of 375 degrees with good results.

Divorce In Wastebasket As Missing POW Returns

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Bonnye Vohden lost hope and decided to divorce her prisoner of war husband. But, now that he's been released, she says she'll try to resume a marriage that was interrupted for more than eight years.

"The phone rang, and he said: 'What the hell's going on?' I told him: 'Golly, you sound just as mean as ever,'" Mrs. Vohden said Monday night after talking with her husband, Navy Cmdr. Raymond Vohden.

Two years ago, Mrs. Vohden led a group of POW wives to Paris, where they tried for an audience with the North Vietnamese delegation to the peace talks.

Rebuffed, the women dumped thousands of letters calling for release of POWs on the North Vietnamese embassy steps, then returned home. Last year, with the war continuing and peace talks stalled, Mrs. Vohden started action for a divorce from her husband, who was shot down over North Vietnam on April 3, 1965.

She halted the proceedings when the

Jobless Payments

To Become Biweekly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In a move to cut its workload, the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services will start mailing out unemployment compensation checks once every two weeks instead of weekly.

Administrator William Barnes said economies were necessitated by a $4 million cut in the agency's budget imposed by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Thieves Get Loot And Talking Bird

OPELOUSAS, La. (AP) — Thieves who broke into the Fabis Guillory residence here evidently didn't want to leave anyone behind to tell on them.

St. Landry Parish sheriff's deputies said burglars took more than $1,500 worth of loot — not counting the family's talking parrot.

Derby News

MRS. GEORGIA SWEET, 896-2462

Worship service starts at the Derby United Methodist Church on Sunday morning at 9:15 a.m. with Rev. Ken Chapin bringing the message. Church school begins at 10:30 a.m. Greeters for Feb. 18 will be Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fields.

The Nazarene at Clark's holds its services at 9:30 a.m. with Rev. Steven Feazel as Pastor. Sunday school begins at 10:40 a.m. Evening service starts at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday evening.

There will be a Christian Service Training school Feb. 19, 20, 22, and 23 at the Grove City Nazarene Church with a variety of classes offered. The last date to pre-register is Feb. 12. Class periods are 7-8:10 and 8:20-9:30 p.m.

February was Youth Sunday for Southwest Community Church featuring Jim Everett from Mt. Vernon Nazarene College.

March 9-11 are the dates for the Teen Retreat held at Woodland Camp on State Route 41 near Peebles, Ohio.

A belated birthday greeting to Mrs. Cora Puckett who observed her birthday on Feb. 10.

Greetings to Jean Justus Jr., Oscar Kinney, Alma Long, David Drummond, Feb. 18, Roy Dailey, Vernon Elliott, Feb. 19; Debbie Blanton, Jim Howell, Sheri Somers, Feb. 20, Elaine Steinhauer, Feb. 23, Larry Neff, Doreen Downs, Feb. 24.

The family was well-known and liked here, and she leaves many friends and classmates in this area. She was 56.

Mrs. Carl Vance has been moved to the Madison Elms Rest Home, London, Ohio - 43140. She will be happy to receive cards and letters, from friends and neighbors, or, if you have time, drop in and see her.

Let's remember Sally Ridgway with cards or letters to cheer her, and she would love a visit from her friends and neighbors too.

Received a note from Mrs. Herman Rowland too late for last week's news. Husband Herman had been admitted to Riverside Methodist Hospital on Jan. 25. He was admitted to the heart unit at that time. She didn't know when he could be released and I'm unable to reach Mary at this time for further report.

Mrs. George Christensen spent a week in the hospital recently suffering from Pneumonia, and then Pleurisy. I'm happy to report she was able to come home on Thursday of last week and is now improving nicely.

A reminder that the Methodist Men of the Harrisburg Methodist Church will have sausage and pancake supper with serving from 4:30 - 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 24. Tickets may be purchased in advance.

Reverse Conviction Of Police Officer

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Ohio's First District Court of Appeals has reversed the conviction of a Cincinnati policeman on a charge of assault and battery.

The court ruled that Timothy Spurluck was engaged in the lawful performance of his official duties last July when he arrested Weymond Bryant, 16.

Viet Bonus Costs High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Administrative costs of handling claims for a proposed Vietnam bonus would be more than $11.80 for each check written, the Senate Ways and Means Committee was told Tuesday.

Col. William B. Haines of the adjutant general's office said the costs for the World War II bonus was $2.40 for each check and for the Korean bonus it was $7.60.

He suggested the costs could be lowered by breaking the bonus into three categories—a flat $200 for servicemen who never left the states, $300 to those who spent 14 months overseas and retention of the $500 for war veterans, including an extra $20 a month for time in Vietnam.

Haines also suggested those with Vietnam service be permitted to select instead of the cash settlement twice that amount toward educational support in any Ohio institution of higher learning.

Haines estimated that 545,000 Ohioans will file claims, with 393,400 of them falling into the first two categories. "Paying them the flat rate bonus would cut administrative costs considerably," he said.

Farm Prices, Foreign Sales Clean Out U.S. Cupboards

WASHINGTON (AP) — High farm prices and huge export orders for the first time in 25 years are clearing government cupboards of grain surpluses, a once-bothersome mountain of wheat and corn that cost taxpayers $1 million a day to store.

Only a year ago, the Nixon administration faced the prospect of a growing grain surplus and nursed worries that farm prices, sensitive in a presidential campaign, would plummet by fall.

But the now-famous sale of 400 million bushels of wheat last summer to the Soviet Union changed it all.

Further orders for wheat and feed grain came in from other countries and prices jumped.

Wheat rose from $1.32 per bushel last July to $2.38 in January, the most farmers enjoyed since 1947. Corn and other feed grains also have gone up. Soybeans, the hottest item, have gone out of sight.

Grain stocks holdings are on the verge of being liquidated entirely for the first time since the late 1940s when the United States was helping feed war-torn nations.

A year ago the Commodity Credit Corp. in the Agriculture Department owned outright some 372 million bushels of wheat and 144 million of corn, a relatively small amount of decade-ago standards.

The CCC wheat supply was down to 276 million bushels by last Jan. 1 and corn holdings were cut to 140 million. But USDA officials say the figures do not tell the full story.

"If it weren't for the transportation situation, we would already have been cleared out of grain, I'm sure," Glenn A. Weir, associate administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said in an interview.

Alternators On Pintos Defective

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. says it made unannounced modifications on alternator parts in certain 1971 and 1972 model Pintos to eliminate vibrations that caused some components to crack.

The firm said the defect was limited to Pintos without air conditioning which were equipped with 2,000 cc. engines. The firm insisted no safety hazard was involved.

"As we find things that need to be corrected we make running changes," said Ford spokesman Richard Judy. "Running changes are not new in the industry."

Judy said vibrations in the cars can cause two parts used to adjust tension in the alternator belt to break.

When the break occurs, Judy said, dash board warning lights go on and passengers sometimes hear the sound of the broken piece moving out of place.

Ford engineers believe failure of the parts is not dangerous, he added.

Since August, 1971, Judy said, several of the parts have been redesigned with rubber bushing to absorb the vibrations.

Hamilton Local Schools Reopen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The four schools in the nearby Hamilton Local School District reopened today as teachers returned to their jobs and preparations were begun to resume negotiations with the board of education.

A two-day strike by 153 teachers in the 3,700-pupil system was stopped by a consent order issued Tuesday by Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Charles Petree.

Under the order, negotiations between teachers and the school board are to resume no later than next Tuesday and both sides are to report back to the court March 1 on progress made in the talks.

Pickaway Shrine Club Plans Busy Year

PLANNERS — Pickaway Shrine Club, Ways and Means Committee, meet with Noble Dr. Robert G. Smith, First Vice President. Left to right, Nobels Smith, George Fuhrman, Asa Elsea, Second Vice President and Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and Mansel Hurlbut.

Noble Dr. Robert G. Smith, first vice president, conducted the regular monthly meeting of the Pickaway Shrine Club calling for committee reports and transacted regular club business.

Noble Asa Elsea, second vice president and chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, presented a proposed program for fund raising, at the local level, for the support of the

921 Criminal Cases Filed In City Court

Circleville Municipal Court collected $23,023 in fines, costs and bond forfeited during the month of January.

The city of Circleville will receive $11,972 of the funds, the county will get $3,757, the Pickaway County Law Library will receive $2,038, and the Treasurer of the State will get $5,250. There were 921 criminal cases filed during the month and 795 completed. In 55 cases, all or part of fines and costs were suspended, amounting to $1,359.

There were 19 civil cases filed and 8 completed, bringing the city $111 in costs.

In the small claims account, there were 41 cases filed and 50 cases finished, bringing the city $82.

Akron Cathedral Fights Charges

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Spokesmen for the evangelistic Cathedral of Tomorrow have remained calm in the wake of federal and state lawsuits, a threat of receivership and charges that the Cathedral is financially insolvent.

Cathedral of Tomorrow attorney Bruce L. Bower of Chicago declined to specify details of the organization's plans until state and federal lawsuits have been resolved, but he said he expects to be able to solve all issues to everyone's satisfaction.

The Cathedral, a multimillion dollar business empire as well as a religious organization and headed by the Rev. Rex E. Humbard, includes Akron area property holdings, Mackinac College in Michigan and the Real Form Girdle Co. in New York City. The Cathedral puts on nationally televised religious crusades with an audience of around 15 million.

Shriners Hospitals For Crippled Children.

Shriners Hospitals For Crippled Children, 19 orthopedic and three burns units, are solely owned by the Shriners of North America and are recognized as the world's most rewarding philanthropy. Since the establishment of the first hospital unit in 1922, more than 160,000 children have been cured or aided materially in the Shriners Hospitals.

Noble Dr. Robert G. Smith presented a film recording of "Turned Out To Grass," an address by Leon "Monty" Montague, designed to stimulate the thinking of people as to the importance of preparing for retirement. This was a most interesting and entertaining program.

The Pickaway Shrine Club is under the jurisdiction of Aladdin Temple, Columbus.

Harold Tener Attends Grain Dealer Confab

Harold A. Tener of Circleville attended the 94th annual convention of the Ohio Grain, Feed and Fertilizer Association in Cincinnati, February 12-14, 1973.

Tener is an inspector of the Ohio Dept. of Agriculture which serves farmers in this area.

A dozen nationally known authorities from government and agri-business addressed the convention which is regarded as one of the largest in the United States. Convention keynote address, "The Critical Path," was given by Robert Miller, Director of Agricultural Activities, WLW Radio and AVCO Broadcasting, Cincinnati. The main objective of the three-day convention was to provide a variety of educational sessions on all phases of management and merchandising for 1500 industry people attending.

According to Tener the Trade Show held in connection with the convention had over 100 exhibits of products and equipment related to feed, grain and fertilizer retailing industries.

Long Terms At Hard Labor Substituted For Whipping As Punishment For Crimes

By MICHELE MORRISON
Herald Staff Writer

A complete change in the system of punishment for crimes was recorded when the General Assembly of the relatively young state of Ohio met in 1815.

The new criminal code did away with whipping and substituted long terms at hard labor in the penitentiary. The death penalty was retained for crimes of treason and first degree murder. For second degree murder, the sentence at its longest was 21 years.

Manslaughter carried a prison term of seven years; counterfeiting 20 years and challenging a person to a duel, up to nine years.

August, 1815, was when the new laws became effective, all 45 sections of them. They succeeded all others which had been written since the land's first settlement.

When the Northwest Territory was being settled, it adopted most of its laws from those of New Jersey, New York, Virginia and Kentucky, states which had already established systems of justice. These laws were generally of a nature to suppress crime totally, carrying severe penalties.

These penalties might be public whipping, confinement in stocks and pillories, binding out to service, commitment to gaols (jails), payment of fines, or forfeiture of life and property.

For example, larceny provided justice for the victim by requiring the offender to return two-fold the value of items stolen. If these were not recovered, the thief could receive up to 39 stripes at a whipping post.

If the thief had no property for the victim to receive in recovery of his losses, the judge could order him bound to hard labor for as many as seven years to any man or woman willing to pay off his debt.

Drunkenness, an offense to the public, was penalized by a fine of 50 cents for the first offense. Every succeeding offense cost one dollar. Refusal or neglect to pay this fine brought an hour restraint in stocks.

County courthouses became a requirement under a territory law passed in 1792. This ruling required every county within the Northwest Territory to build the courthouse and provide a jail, pillory, whipping post and stocks for meting out justice. Every jail was required to have two departments, in order to keep the debtors separate from the criminals.

In 1805, if brothers John and David Evans had gotten in their fight and been convicted of robbery, law required 59 stripes by the whip. Had it been a second offense, 100 stripes would have been laid on their backs.

But the Evans' boys trilla came two months after the new laws for punishment in a penitentiary went into effect.

The first keeper of the penitentiary was James Hooker. He was said to be very lax in his treatment of the criminals, often letting them disregard work to amuse themselves in sport in the courtyard.

"Barn ball" is recorded to have been a favorite pastime of those early prisoners. One historian notes that as the inmates played this game against the north wall of the building, they had a small dog who was trained to fetch the ball if it went over the wall. The dog would alert the guard, who would let the animal out to retrieve the toy.

Escapes were recorded from the prison nearly every year. At the end of the three years, the penitentiary had accepted 137 inmates. Four were female and "seven were persons of colour." The number of escapes and attempts to escape rose fairly high.

Under lax conditions, prisoners would try and make their escapes through the cornfield to the thick woods a distance from the prison. If a man managed to gain a lead of a few hundred yards of his pursuers, he had a good chance of escape since the guns of that time were inaccurate.

One provision of the early state law required that the keeper forfeit $50 from his $700 annual salary for each escape. Later the general assembly took pity on the keeper, noting that the law was unfair. However, a law offering a $50 reward for the return of an escaped prisoner remained on the books for 100 years.

Keeper Hooker (this title was not changed to warden until 1834) had authority to punish prisoners for assault and battery, cursing and swearing, idleness, negligence in work, willful mismanagement of work or disobedience while under his authority.

Punishment for any of the above offenses called for imprisonment in the dark cells and a bread and water diet. Prisoners were worked daily, with the exception of Sunday, for as many hours as the particular season and type of job allowed.

Life in the first penitentiary was not easy. For a man sentenced to a long term, it was a good chance that death would be his earliest release, unless a

High Court Review Asked On Pipeline

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaska will ask the U.S. Supreme Court to review a lower court ruling that has blocked construction of the trans-Alaska oil pipeline, Gov. William Egan says.

Construction was sidetracked last Friday by a ruling of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

The state also will ask the Interior Department to shift to Alaska control of the 789-mile pipeline corridor from the arctic North Slope to the southern port of Valdez, Egan said Monday.

Meanwhile, Alaska Sens. Ted Stevens and Mike Gravel said they planned to introduce legislation to permit construction of the line.

The lower court ruled that the proposed 150-foot right of way for the line violated the Minerals Leasing Act of 1920. Under the act, rights of way must be no wider than 50 feet.

A spokesman for Gravel said the senator is considering three legislative approaches to undo the bonds holding down construction of the line to pipe crude oil from the new fields of the North Slope.

One would be to amend the 1920 law. The second would be to authorize a specific exception for Alyeska, a consortium of oil firms. The third would give the secretary of Interior authority to grant a wide right of way.

Bond Set For Pair In Bank Robbery

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — Bond was set at $25,000 each Monday for two Cincinnati men charged in last Friday's robbery of the Bank of Crittenden in Grant County.

U.S. Magistrate G. Murray Smith set the bond for Clifford E. Hooks, 21, and Elijah J. Woodward, 17. Two were lodged in the Madison County Jail here in lieu of bond.

More POWs To Be Freed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced Tuesday 20 more American prisoners of war would be released by North Vietnam "in a few days," apparently as a goodwill gesture following Dr. Henry Kissinger's visit to Hanoi.

Defense Department spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim said the list of names was received early Tuesday and the Pentagon was busy notifying next of kin. He said the names would be made public once this was completed.

Included on the list are 4 Navy men

Auto Rental Agency Named In Lawsuit

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—An automobile rental agency and its president were sued for $309,466 Monday by the Provident Bank of Cincinnati.

Named in the action were Lytle Leasing, Inc., of Batavia, and its president, Jack Lytle.

The suit listed 87 due promissory notes executed from April, 1969, through April 1972.

Mexican tourists spent $183.3 million abroad in 1971.

and 16 from the Air Force.

The release of these 20 will bring to 155 the number of U.S. servicemen freed by the Communists in North and South Vietnam. Some 135 men were returned Monday and flown to Clark Air Base in the Philippines for processing.

Friedheim said details of the new releases would be arranged at the next meeting in Saigon of the four-party joint military commission.

The Pentagon was told by North Vietnam of the release through what Friedheim called "communication channels." He did not specify what this meant but said the message apparently was associated with Kissinger's visit to the North Vietnamese capital.

Logan Elm School News

Newsstaff Picks Eight Seniors For Feature

By CARLA HOBBLER

Debbie Ayers, 17, lives at Route 4, Circleville, with Mr. John Ayers. She is active as a member of the band and the drill team.

Debbie's likes include cupcakes, animals, MG's, tennis, water, swimming, boat races, car races, people who smile, and people who like to laugh. She dislikes rainy days, sad stories, worms, and people who force a smile.

Debbie's plans for the future are to be a writer, to be rich, and to enjoy life.

Marty Dumm, 17, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winfred K. Dumm at Route 1, Laurelville. Her activities include Teens for Christ, Pep Club, Skandha Staff, treasurer of Rainbow, school choir, and church choir.

Marty likes Ken, the song "Song Sung Blue," the color blue, friendly people, bookkeeping, weekends, water skiing, and ice skating. Her only dislike is snobby people.

Marty plans to attend Ohio University this fall and major in accounting.

Sue Kaiser, 18, resides at Route 3, Dunkle Road, Circleville, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Kaiser. She is active in GAA, Skandha Staff, bookstore worker, Girl's solo, ensemble, choir, Roundtown Players, Junior Theatre of the Arts, and DeMolay Sweetheart Queen of the Circleville Chapter.

Sue lists working at the Covered Wagon Steak House, her Camero, going to exciting and different places, meeting people on weekends, and just having a great time no matter what she is doing as her likes. She dislikes people who pressure her into things. After graduation, Sue plans to continue school at the University of Cincinnati.

Sheryl Quincel, 18, lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Quincel at Route 1, Circleville. She is active in GAA, Skandha Staff, secretary of the Pep Club, Muskrats, and Student Council.

Sheryl likes Jay, rainy days, and taking long walks. Monday mornings, last summer, and "Hard rocks" are her dislikes.

HOMEMAKER — Debbie Redman was named Logan Elm's Homemaker of Tomorrow as a result of the tests given to high school seniors all over the county last December. Debbie enjoys cooking up weird foods but plans a career in geology rather than in the home economics field. She is also active in many school activities and is a member of National Honor Society. As the school winner, Debbie receives a silver charm. The 18-year-old is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Redman Jr., Route 4.

Miss Hill Teaching Home Ec.

By SEPTEMBER YOUNG

This week we would like to welcome Miss Carol Lorraine Hill, who is student teaching here at Logan Elm for eight weeks.

MISS CAROL L. HILL
Student Teacher

Miss Hill is a student teacher in home economics helping and observing with Miss Sandy Janes, our full-time home economics teacher.

Miss Hill resides at 24 West Ing St., in Kingston. She is a senior at Stephens College in Columbia, Missouri, majoring in retailing and home economics education.

Miss Hill lists her likes as swimming, tennis, water skiing, motorcycles, and being happy. She dislikes rude people. Her hobbies include fashion designing and making jewelry.

When asked her comment of Logan Elm, Miss Hill replied, "I have found the staff to be warm and friendly and the student body cooperative and well behaved."

We all wish Miss Hill a happy stay here and hope she will come back and visit us after her graduation!

Meet The President

MIKE HOLBROOK

By VANESA MILLS

Anyone who has a varsity letter in any sport is eligible to join Logan Elm's Varsity Club.

Varsity Club president is Senior Mike Holbrook. Mike is 17 years old and lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Holbrook of Route 1, Circleville.

Besides Varsity Club, Mike is active in varsity baseball, varsity basketball, one of our tri-captain's, choir president and boys' ensemble. He enjoys most all sports as a hobby. Mike's likes include basketball, baseball, ice hockey, Debbie and good food. His only dislikes are colds and swell heads. After graduation, Mike plans to attend college.

Mr. Steve Barney is the adviser of Varsity Club. Brent Luckhart is the vice-president and the treasurer is Scott Bower.

This year, the Varsity Club sold all-occasion cards to help boost their funds. They plan to buy Varsity Club patches for all their members.

Class Of '73 Picks Green Caps, Gowns

On Feb. 2, the Class of '73 voted during their lunch periods for the color of their graduation cap and gown choice.

The colors students had to choose from were: brown and ivory; dart-mouth green and holly green; black and red; light blue and navy blue; maroon and white.

After a very close vote between the greens and red and black, greens were chosen as '73 class colors. The gowns are going to be rented, but each senior gets to keep his cap and tassel.

The egg of the mother penguin rests on her feet and is kept warm by a blanket of loose, densely feathered skin.

Daylene Smalley, Mark Fouch Named In January

BY CINDY MATHEWS

Daylene Smalley, a senior, and Mark Fouch, a junior, have been chosen as January Students of the Month.

Daylene, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Smalley, resides at Route 4, Circleville. At LE, she is active as co-editor of the Skandha, and belongs to the Pep Club and GAA.

Daylene's known in the office for being tardy for school more than anyone else. In her spare time, she enjoys going to movies, fishing, hunting, reading, and knitting. Daylene's likes include friendly people, being with Dezi, doing unusual things, and just having a good time.

After graduation, she plans to work through the summer and go to Ohio

University in Athens next fall to major in special education.

Mark Fouch lives at Route 4, Circleville with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle B. Fouch. Food, sports, and most people and things are his likes, while being on a wrestling diet and inconsiderate people are his dislikes.

MARK FOUCH

His hobbies include listening to music, and finding freaky things for his room. At LE, Mark is active as Varsity Club Secretary, junior class officer, co-captain of the wrestling team, sports informant for WNRE radio, and a member of the track team.

Asked how he felt about being Student of the Month, Mark replied, "When the announcement was given over the P.A. SYSTEM I was sleeping in the library, and it was something nice to wake up to."

Students Pick Best-Liked Class

By ANN WOLFORD

This week, students at Logan Elm High were polled to find out what class they most enjoy.

Sue Montgomery: Study Hall, because I can do what I want.

Nancy Gildersleeve: Home Ec., because I like to eat.

Connie Dollison: Government, because it's a funny class, and I like to tease Mr. Delong.

Sherry Davis: Band, because I talk to Ayers and Bonnie and play wrong notes.

Judy Clifton: Study Hall, cause I don't have to study.

Judy Stephenson: Office Practice since I don't have to work too hard.

Linda Kneec: Don't have any favorites; I hate them all.

Tony Reeser: Biology, because there we are going to open up frogs and watch their hearts beat.

Cindy Weaver: Consumer Ec., cause it's the last class of the day.

$1.35 Million Bond Set For Cyclists

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus Municipal Court judge has set bond at $1.35 million for 23 Outlaws Motorcycle Club members arrested Monday on drug and gun charges in a raid on club headquarters here.

Police raided the headquarters looking for a gang member wanted in a recent shooting. The man they wanted wasn't captured, but police say they did get 23 pounds of marijuana and 20 firearms.

All 23 — two women and 21 men — are still in jail. Hearings are scheduled for Feb. 22.

Crash Kills 2 Women

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Lucille Crede, 68, of Delphos, Ohio, and her sister Colette Metcalfe, 63, of Fort Myers, were killed Monday in a two-car collision three miles south of here, the Florida Highway Patrol said.

Kuhn, Miller Trade Barbs

NEW YORK (AP) — On Valentine's Day 1973 there is, as usual, no love lost between Bowie Kuhn and Marvin Miller.

Peering over opposite sides of the baseball labor fence, Commissioner Kuhn and Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, continue to fire high, hard pitches at one another.

The commissioner charged Tuesday that Miller is trying "to create confusion in the minds of the clubs, players and public regarding the status of negotiations. If a like response is precipitated, the bargaining could degenerate into namecalling. For the moment, I feel this is what Mr. Miller wants and is trying to foment.

"To avoid this," Kuhn continued, "I have directed that any other response come only from the major league presidents and that it be temperate and businesslike.

"The clubs have pressed for a three-year agreement on all issues," the commissioner said. "I sincerely believe that three years of peace during which we can concentrate strictly on baseball, are vital to the financial health of baseball, players and clubs alike."

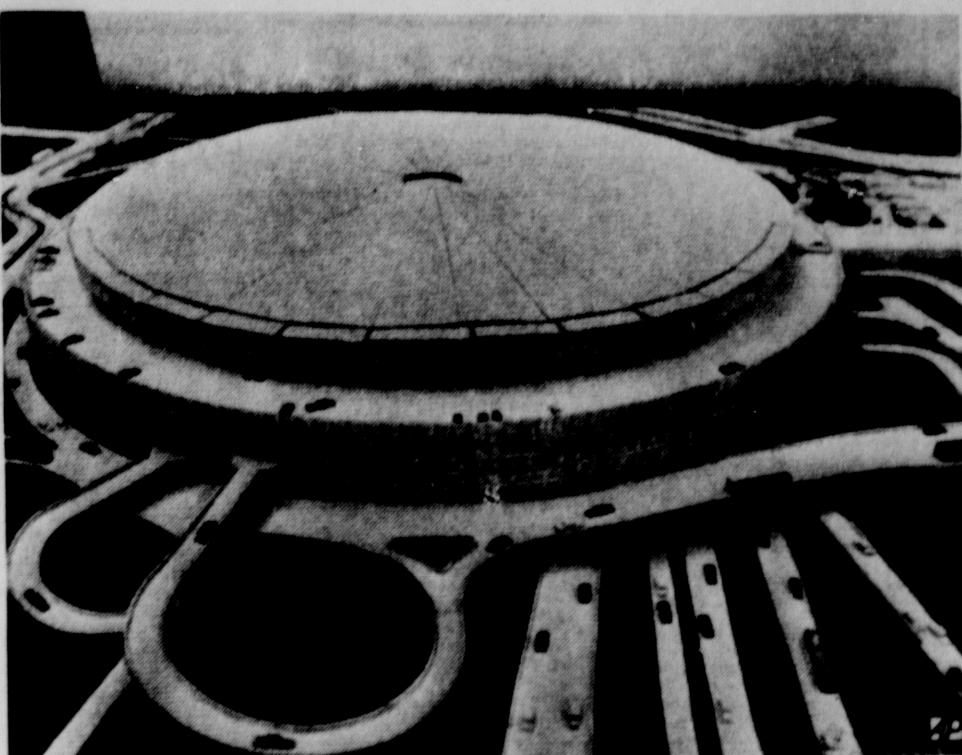

Kuhn said that Miller might question his judgment because he is supporting the clubs' position. "I must remind him however that four years ago, I resolved a threatened spring stoppage ... by urging the clubs to increase their offer on pension proposals. As a result, an agreement was reached."

Informed of Kuhn's statement, Miller said, "I fully understand why he is so defensive about the role he has played as coordinator of the owners' negotiating committee."

This latest round of rhetoric in organized baseball's labor headache began Monday when Miller held a press conference and charged baseball with threatening an illegal lockout. This followed a directive by the two league presidents ordering teams not to open training camps early for pitchers and catchers.

Miller will present the owners' latest proposal to the 24 player representatives on Friday and that the offer will likely be turned over to the entire membership for a vote. But he indicated that such a vote by the players "will be extremely difficult unless they are allowed to gather at spring training camps."

Kansas State Beats Kansas In 67-66 Last-Second Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kansas State's basketball team spent most of the evening chasing an elusive commodity called momentum. And they found it just in time.

Lon Kruger pumped in two free throws with 22 seconds left as 15th-ranked Kansas State clawed back from a 13-point deficit for a 67-66 victory over Kansas Tuesday night. "Momentum sure is a strange thing and I'm glad we finally caught it," said

Coach Jack Hartman. "We kept waiting for Kansas to stop hitting that outside jumper but we almost waited too long."

Kansas led 62-49 with 5:30 left before Steve Mitchell, who finished with 17 points, and Larry Williams sparked a comeback that whittled the disadvantage to 66-65 with 52 seconds remaining. Kansas then attempted a basket but Kruger grabbed it and was fouled. He then bucketed both shots.

In other games involving nationally ranked teams, No. 2 North Carolina State thumped East Carolina 105-70 and No. 5 Marquette whipped Northern Illinois 93-80.

North Carolina State grabbed an early 10-point lead and then rode David Thompson's 33 points to its 20th consecutive victory.

Substitutes played out the final eight minutes for North Carolina State, which registered over 100 points for the eighth time this season.

Larry McNeill and 6-foot-8 sophomore Maurice Lucas provided the offensive punch as Marquette weathered a late Northern Illinois surge for the victory. McNeill bucketed 22 points and Lucas 20.

"I think we've seen the first of Lucas," Marquette Coach Al McGuire said. "It looked like the first time Luke really wanted to go. He looked like the local guy who wanted to be the gun-slinger."

Lucas also added four clutch free throws down the stretch and helped offset a 35-point effort by Northern Illinois' Jim Bradley.

Viking Freshmen

Lose To Smith

Teays Valley's freshmen cagers dropped a 38-28 decision to Chillicothe Smith Tuesday on the Vikings floor. It was the season finale for the Blue and Gold who ended play with a mark of 3-10.

The little Vikings jumped out to a 12-8 lead at the first period buzzer but trailed 20-14 at the half and were behind 30-20 at the conclusion of the third canto.

Tim Tosca led Teays Valley with eight points, Terry Trego, Mike Johnson, Bob Leatherwood and Jim Little each added four, Jeff Pontius had three and Robby Anderson tallied one. Mike Fairrow and Jeff Corzine both had 10 markers for Smith.

Coach At Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The University of Toledo announced Tuesday the appointment of Ronald M. Graham, 25, as an assistant coach for the Mid-American Conference school's football team.

Celtics Edge Bulls, 105-101; In Last Stanza

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn said the Celtics were lucky because their offense stopped in the stretch. Detroit Coach Ray Scott said his Pistons were unlucky because their offense never got started. And Cleveland Coach Bill Fitch said nothing—but the Cavaliers' fans gave him a hand anyway.

"We were lucky to win," Heinsohn said after the Celtics' 105-101 victory over the Bulls in Chicago Tuesday night, "because our offense suddenly stopped in the fourth quarter. Garfield Heard and Norm Van Lier hurt us with their quickness and their jumpers."

Boston, which widened its lead over the idle New York Knicks to 1½ games in the National Basketball Association's Atlantic Division, entered the final quarter with an 87-79 lead.

Then Heard and Van Lier went to work, pumping in the baskets that catapulted the Bulls into a 101-97 lead with less than two minutes to go. But Boston wasn't finished.

"I told our guys after calling time out that we had to stop Van Lier and keep him from passing off to the open man," Heinsohn explained. "I let Dave Cowens come out and challenge him and Van Lier got so frustrated that he eventually fouled out."

The fouls are also what knocked out Chicago. Jo Jo White sank two free throws and John Havlicek canned a 30-foot jumper to tie the score, then Cowens and Havlicek each clicked on two more foul shots to provide the Celtics with the winning margin.

In the night's other NBA games, Milwaukee downed Detroit 110-96, Golden State clipped Cleveland 103-90, Kansas City-Omaha belted Houston 132-118, Portland beat Buffalo 120-100 and Los Angeles defeated Seattle 101-98. In the American Basketball Association, Memphis nipped the New York Nets 95-93 and Kentucky bounced San Diego 110-103.

McDowell Cagers Split Contests

McDowell's junior high cage teams split a pair of contests with Zane Trace Tuesday at Kingston. The seventh graders ran their season record to 12-0 with a 32-17 win while the eighth grade squad, 9-3, lost 45-29.

The seventh graders of McDowell led all the way, 6-3, 16-6, 21-0 and 32-17. Tony Crist was high scorer with 13 points, Jeff Collins added eight, Lynn Strehle had six, Rock Huggins and John Mattler each netted two and Dan Calton had one. Tedford led Zane Trace with six markers.

Zane Trace led the McDowell eighth graders at the end of each period, 6-4, 20-11, 32-15 and 45-29. Mark Skinner paced McDowell with nine, Chuck Cave had five, Randy Pontius four, Oscar Allen three while Mike Patrick, Tim Fouch, Steve Bowling and Rod Wilburn each tallied two. Haynes was high for the winners with 12 markers.

Both McDowell teams will be back in action 4:30 p.m. Thursday when they host Westfall.

Tom-A-Hawk Victor

In Latonia Feature

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Tom-A-Hawk had little trouble grabbing the lead from Thistle Bridge Tuesday night to win the 5½ furlong, $4,000 featured eighth race at Latonia by 1½ lengths in 1:05.45.

Tom-A-Hawk broke second and remained there until making his move at the top of the stretch. The winner paid $6.80, $3.20 and $2.80.

Vikings, Braves End Regular Season Play

Teays Valley and Logan Elm will wrap up regular cage season this week when the Vikings travel to Dublin Friday night in a decisive Metropolitan League clash and the Braves host St. Charles Saturday night in a non league affair. Westfall ended its regular season last week and now awaits tournament play.

The Metropolitan title is up for grabs with Teays Valley, Dublin and Olen-tangy all sharing the top spot with marks of 8-3. The Vikings can grab the title outright with a win over Dublin and a loss by Olen-tangy who meets Hamilton Twp. Friday night.

The Vikings stopped the Shamrocks in their first encounter this season with 69-66 victory on the Teays Valley court.

Coach Bob Hoover's Vikings are ripping the nets with an offensive barrage this is netting them 75.0 points a game but the defensive is yielding 70.6 markers per game to the opposition.

Craig Pontius, the Vikings steller playmaker, is pacing the squad with an average of 17.5 points per contest. Jim Logsdon is netting an average of 16.6, Jeff Anderson 13.4, Jay Brinker 11.4, Jerry Sabine 8.2, Terry Collins 6.5 and Terry Lambert is hitting 5.3 per game.

The Vikings have an overall mark for the season of 11-6.

The Braves of Coach Dave Little will be taking on St. Charles in the season finale at Spangler Memorial gym.

Logan Elm finished second in the Scioto Valley Conference with a mark of 5-2. East Clinton grabbed the SVC crown with a league record of 7-0. The Braves finished regular season action with an overall mark of 12-5.

The Braves are scorching the cords with a game average of 78.2 points and have been giving up 69.8 tallies to the opposition.

Tom Sykes, the sharpshooting Brave, has been averaging 28.1 markers per contest to lead the Logan Elm offense. Tim Justice adds the other barrel of the attack with a game mark of 20.1. Marty Eveland is also a double figure scorer with an average of 10.0 a game.

Donkeys Highlight Cage Benefit At Mill St. Gym

They'll be rooting, hooting and shooting Saturday night at the Mill St. gym when four local services clubs collide in three donkey basketball games for the benefit of Berger Hospital.

For the first time the Kiwanis, Jaycees, Lions and Sertoma Clubs will join in a common project for the good of the community. Plans are underway to make it a yearly project.

The Lions will take on the Kiwanis in the opening contest with Sertoma and Jaycees meeting in the second tilt. The winners will meet in the championship tilt.

Proceeds from the games will be used to help defray the cost of equipment needed at Berger Hospital for coronary and intensive care patients.

Such prominent names as Super Stupid, Kilroy, Honey Pot, Thunderball, Snuffy, Beetlebaum and Elvis will make up the teams. The liniment brigade will consist of wives of the players who will have to listen to the moans and groans Sunday morning.

All four teams will probably have their troubles as the winning outfit will have to be smarter than the donkeys.

Capital Tops Muskingum; OC Race Now In 4-Way Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Capital basketball Coach Vince Chickerella viewed the Crusaders' 58-46 triumph over Muskingum Tuesday night "a big win for us" in more than one way.

While the victory vaulted Capital into a first place tie with Muskingum and two other teams in the Ohio Conference, Chickerella also saw some postseason advantages.

"Nationally, Muskingum has been getting a lot of ink and we think this can do a lot for us in getting an at-large bid 'to the NCAA regional tournament," he said.

Tuesday night action left Capital, Muskingum, Wittenberg and Otterbein all with 9-2 records in conference play. All four have one more league game left before the OC tournament begins Feb. 22.

Capital beat Muskingum at its own game—defense. Muskingum is second nationally among small college in that category.

"Muskingum plays very deliberate ball control," Chickerella said. "So our plan was to play more conservatively ourselves and be a little more deliberate."

"If we could get ahead, we didn't think they would be good coming from behind. This proved to be successful."

The strategy denied Muskingum good shots and they finished with a 38 per cent average from the field while Capital hit a sizzling 54 per cent.

The Crusaders also had a 32-16 edge off the boards.

Wittenberg, led by Eddie Ford with 17 points, slipped by Heidelberg 54-47. Heidelberg closed to within three points of the lead in the final minutes of play but the Tigers converted several turnovers to hang on for the victory.

Otterbein downed Mount Union 84-79 in a tight game capped by Jim Reed's basket with 33 seconds left to play to give Otterbein the lead for good.

Another OC game saw Oberlin defeating Kenyon 67-61 in a battle of league cellar-dwellers.

Elsewhere, it was Wright State 100, Wilberforce 69; Urbana 87, Cedarville 85, in overtime, and Marietta 83, Carnegie-Mellon 46.

Schoterman Makes Bid

CINCINNATI (AP)—An Olympic hammer-thrower turned runningback believes he can make it with the Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League.

"I didn't want to stay an amateur athlete all my life," said Al Schoterman, who was also a backup defensive tackle at Kent State, "not with all the money there is in professional athletics."

The Bengals signed Schoterman this week after looking at him in a tryout camp here. The Bengals have been looking for a big running back but were unsuccessful during the NFL draft. Schoterman set an NCAA record throwing the hammer 230 feet, 3 inches. He said he has cut his weight from 270 to 230 since the Olympics and can run 40 yards in 4.6 seconds.

"We don't know if he can make it or not," said Pete Brown, player personnel director, "and we're not expecting him to step right in. We'll be patient. We have to see if he has potential."

"But he is the big, powerstyle runner everyone is looking for. If he can play, we'll have struck gold."

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: One of your best days for thinking big and getting big by expanding your vision far beyond present boundaries and gaining the goodwill of those in powerful position for the most ambitious undertaking you can conceive of. If you want the goodwill of bigwigs in fullest measure, compliment them on their achievements.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you do those things that please others, you can have a delightful day and p.m. and you gain favors in return. Put your creative ideas to work and become more successful in the future. Avoid gossips, especially in p.m.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Look at matters at home in the clear light of day and then you know how to please kin. More helpfulness toward them is important. Do some entertaining in p.m. that brings more goodwill your way.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Showing partners that you appreciate their alliance can bring more cooperation in the future. Go out and shop for whatever is necessary to make operations more efficient. The evening is fine from the social standpoint.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can set wheels in motion now that will bring you an added income you need and want. Talk over business affairs with experts you trust. Some study in p.m. is good.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) The planets are favorable and you can accomplish what means the most to you now. Out to social events that give you a chance to meet important personalities. Dress your best. Show you have excellent manners.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Quietly analyze what your finest aims are and how you can attain them, and then set wheels in right motion. Your evening for romantic pleasure. Take the initiative and all will be splendid.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Listen to the ideas of a good friend so you are able to gain some aims that mean a good deal to you. Discussions with personal pals can bring advance for all concerned. Show you are practical minded.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Contact higher-up and see where you can use your finest capabilities to good advantage. You can get into civic work that really appeals to you. Much added prestige can come of this, so do your best.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Conditions arise that result in your benefit if you act quickly, wisely. Making new contacts of a highly spiritual nature is good now. The evening can be charming from the social standpoint.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get an early start at those annoying responsibilities and improve your financial structure. Show more affection for mate and become a happier person. Avoid one who could get you into a good deal of trouble.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A little more formality and you gain the goodwill of associates as well as their full cooperation now. Plan just how to handle that civic work so you get fine results and improve your reputation. Think logically, practically.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) First plan your work with fellow workers and then work with them harmoniously and efficiently. Take some time to buy the items to add to your wardrobe that bring out your charm. Avoid one who does not really appreciate you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who is born with a feeling of importance, and if given the right training and education can indeed develop into such an individual, since there is much ability in this chart. Your youngster will want to venture early into unusual outlets, which is fine, since the greatest success will come from just one or more of these. Add foreign language to the educational curricula.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — What radio folk call network "remotes" with big-name music stars began fading out in the middle 1940s as big band musicians began fading into the armed forces.

The remotes—live network broadcasts from dance halls, movie theaters and nightclubs—suffered major setbacks when television came in. But they are far from extinct.

They've been enjoying a quiet, relatively unheralded resurgence the past 2½ years on the NBC Radio network's weekend "Monitor" service for NBC's 238 radio affiliates.

Frank Sinatra did a lot of remotes in his days with the Harry James band; Frank Jr. relived history—albeit with a different band—last December when he did an NBC "Monitor" remote here.

Most of the "Monitor" remotes have had a jazz flavor, featuring the bands of Duke Ellington, Lionel Hampton, Count Basie and the Stan Getz quartet.

This Saturday, from 9:05 to 10 p.m., EST, "Monitor" is doing a live remote starring veteran bandleader Cab Calloway and his daughter, Chris, a singer.

All the remotes are broadcast weekend nights on an irregular basis.

Last June, the network began shooting for the rock and pop trade with the first in a Sunday series of delayed-action remotes—concerts taped on location for broadcast at a later date.

The series, called "Experiment One Project," kicked off with a Three Dog Night concert taped several days earlier in Akron, Ohio.

Subsequent shows, each an hour, featured Bobby Goldsboro and Elvis Presley. On March 25, the series will feature a Carpenters concert taped last fall at Purdue University; on April 22, there'll be a Blood, Sweat & Tears concert.

The "Project One" concerts haven't been broadcast on a regular basis because of a lack of national advertisers, NBC officials say. It's hard to get them for a national radio show.

SAFETY-PIN GEMS — Linda West displays necklace made from safety-pins, beads, discs and metal bits, according to Scovill Manufacturing Co. The fad is form of Indian-style jewelry.

Sertoma-LaSertoma Clubs Bestow Annual Awards

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones Sr., and Tom Spring were honored Monday evening by Sertoma and La Sertoma Clubs at the annual Service To Mankind and Youth Service Banquet at the Wardell Party Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones received a glass engraved plaque from Sertoma Club and Tom Spring, a gift and certificate from La Sertoma Club.

The invocation was by the Rev. Roy Osborn, emcee for the evening. Guests were introduced by Diana Jones and letters of recognition and the award was presented to Tom Spring by Nancy Lewis.

Bruce Stevenson introduced guests honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jones and the plaque was presented to the couple along with flowers for Mrs. Jones by Rev. Osborn.

Rev. Osborn said that Mr. and Mrs. Jones had given of their time and work to help over 700 families in the past two years. The highest praise was for Operation Rudolph which included collecting used toys and repairing them for children who otherwise would have had a bleak Christmas. Many times as the holiday drew near the couple would stay up all night working to complete making the toys usable and their reward was knowing that they had made someone happy.

Seven of the eight children of the couple were present to honor their parents along with other relatives and the pastor of the Second Baptist Church, the Rev. and Mrs. Otis Crowder of Columbus.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jones are deacons of the church, Sunday School teachers, custodians without pay and assist in all church activities. Mrs. Jones retired as Girl Scout leader in 1970 after many years.

Tom Spring was lauded for his many projects in and outside of school. A few of his activities include Drama Club, Key Club, crucifer of Trinity Lutheran Church, student band director, Boy Scouts from whom he received the God and County award, volunteer at the Red Cross Bloodmobile and water safety aid.

Among the special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis. Mrs. Ellis is governor of South Central District of La Sertoma Club.

Committees making the evening a success included: Service-To-Mankind, Dan Davis, chairman; Rev. Osborn, Charles T. Carle Jr. and Tom Hickey.

Putting things all together for the Youth Service award were: Nancy Lewis, chairman; Jane Mets, Jeannie Carle, Margaret Parker and Marilyn Scranton.

POW Sister Gets Flowers From Buddy

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A bouquet of red roses sent by a homeward-bound prisoner of war brightened Valentine's Day for Becky Williams, whose brother is still held captive in North Vietnam.

Miss Williams, 20, waited by the telephone to hear if her brother would be among the 20 prisoners Hanoi said would be released soon. The word on Navy Lt. Lewis I. Williams didn't come Tuesday, but the flowers did.

"To the beautiful sister of a great guy. The bachelors all love you and so do the rest of us. Love Porter," the note on the longstem flowers said.

"I don't even know anybody named Porter," said the blonde nurse. "I guess my brother must have asked a buddy to send them to me."

At the Naval Air Station in Jacksonville, Operation Homecoming coordinator Cmdr. T. L. Tackowski said the flowers were sent by Lt. Cmdr. Porter Halyburton who apparently talked to Williams in a prison camp.

Williams, 29, was shot down 20 miles outside Hanoi on April 24, 1967.

Halyburton also sent a dozen roses to Mrs. Glenn Nixon in Cleveland, Ohio, from another prisoner and some other flowers to his own wife in Tucker, Ga.

Women Complain Jobs Are Closed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — While the police and fire ranks are now open to women, the 5-foot-8 minimum height requirement eliminates 90 per cent of them, the Cincinnati Human Relations Commissions charges.

The Cincinnati Civil Service Commission also was asked in public hearings Tuesday to delay any change in regulations until the police and fire departments can complete studies on the relationship between height and efficiency.

The civil service commission earlier removed the "male only" requirement from job application forms in the police and fire departments, at the request of the human relations commission, a group appointed by city council.

NEW MEMBERS — New members inducted by the Circleville Jaycees recently were, from the left, Tom Dixon, Ralph Singer, Jim Woodward, Jim Noel, and Warren Spangler. Also inducted but not present for the photo were Randy Gilmore and Rick Sabine.

Local Jaycees Induct Seven New Members

The Circleville Jaycees inducted seven new members last Thursday night following a special Prospective Jaycee Orientation program at the L-K Restaurant.

After opening remarks by program chairman, Jim Gee, local Jaycee President Larry Eveland introduced his officers and explained the local organizational structure and program.

A slide presentation on the history and concept of the U.S. Jaycees was then given.

Special guest speakers Tom Elsea and Dr. Robert Liggett added personal insight from their experience with the Jaycees locally and throughout the state.

District V. P. Bob McNall was on hand to perform the induction ceremony and Jaycee guests from the North Columbus chapter were present to witness.

A cold snack buffet was served at the conclusion of the program.
